

Hello,

Just want to say that I am opposed to any new laws allowing the US Government to spy on it's citizens. This is supposed to be a free country and yet our government is treating all of us (citizens) as untrustworthy. Yes, I know that if we are doing nothing wrong there is no reason to worry if someone is reading our mail or listening to our phone conversations or monitoring our search and browsing habits on the internet. However that is beside the point! Our government has no business spying on it's citizens!!!

Thank You
